Education
Direct

TABLE OF CONTENTS

VOLUME II

SEPTEMBER ISSUE - METHODS OF INSTRUCTION

Introduction: Carter V. Good 1
The Effect of Educational Motion Pictures upon the Retention of Informational Learning: John Elmore Hansen 1
An Evaluation of an Arithmetic "Crutch": William A. Brownell 5
"Intelligence" and "Perseveration" Related to School Achievement: K. H. Rogers . . 35
The Effect of Praise, Reproof, and Exercise upon Muscular Steadiness: Merrill T. Eaton 44
Measuring Attitude toward the High School: H. H. Remmers, G. C. Brandenburg, and F. H. Gillespie 60
The Measurement of Attitudes toward Current Political and Economic Problems among Junior and Senior High School Pupils: Milo L. Whittaker 65

DECEMBER ISSUE - CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Variation in IQ at the Preschool Level: W. Line and E. Kaplan 95
Age and Sex Differences in the Acquisition of One Type of Skilled Movement: Maurice Curtis Langhorne 101
A Study of Children's Fears: Arthur T. Jersild and Francis B. Holmes 109
Laughing and Crying of Preschool Children: Catherine Williams Brackett 119
The Use of Conditioning Techniques in the Study of Form Discrimination of Young Children: Harold M. Skeels 127
Motivation of Young Children: The Constancy of Certain Behavior Patterns: Harold E. Anderson and Ruth Sloan Smith 138
The Reliability of Observations of Talkativeness and Social Contact Among Nursery School Children by the "Short Time Sample" Technique: Esther W. Robinson and Herbert S. Conrad 161
The Development of Children in the Home Management Houses of the Iowa State College: Thomas F. Vance, Onica L. Prall, Ruby V. Simpson, and Florence E. McLauchlin 166
Some Parent-Child Relationships as Shown in Clinical Case Studies: Marian J. Fitz-Simons 170
Path-Selection Behavior of Young Children in Body-Mazes: M. A. Wenger 197

MARCH ISSUE - EDUCATIONAL MEASUREMENTS

The Derivation of Norms: S. A. Courtis 237
Some Assumptions Involved in Personality Measurement: Gordon Hendrickson 243
The Economical Collection of Data for Test Validation: Paul Horst 250
Item Analysis by the Method of Successive Residuals: Paul Horst 254
Improved Overlapping Methods for Determining Validities of Test Items: John A. Long 264
The Negative Suggestion Effect of the False Statement in the True-False Test: Howard Y. McCluskey 269
A Graphical Method for Computing the Standard Error of Biserial r: Walter J. McNamara and Jack W. Dunlap 274
A New Technique for Machine Computation of Coefficients of Correlation: Marc J. Feldstein 278
The Construction and Interpretation of Differential Ability Patterns: David Segel 283
The Insignificance of Significant Differences: Edward A. Lincoln 288
Predicting Stabilized Salary-Schedule Costs: Douglas E. Scates 291
"Perseveration" in a Group of Subnormal Children: K. H. Rogers 301
An Analysis of the Scores of Eighth-Grade Pupils and Normal-School Students on Certain Objective Tests: C. C. Upshall and Harry V. Masters 310

JUNE ISSUE - CURRICULUM CONSTRUCTION

The Group Reactions of College Instructors to Curriculum Proposals: W. E. Peik and Earle U. Rugg 317
A Critical Survey of 1000 Activities: Junius L. Meriam 327
A Functional Course in Chemistry: John P. Schultz and Henry Harap 333
The Vocabulary of Letters of Boys and Girls 12 to 15 Years of Age, Inclusive: H. Wayne Driggs 339
The Art Preferences of Junior High School Pupils: Mary Janet Traill and Henry Harap 355
The Philippine Islands in American School Textbooks: J. E. Perpinan 366
Difficulty versus Frequency of Latin Words, Forms, and Constructions: Mark E. Hutchinson 394